Professor A.V. William Jackson,
Columbia University,
New York City

Dear Professor Jackson:

As promised you last night, I am sending you rubbings of what coins we have of Barbur. Also I have made a note of what mints I know, in which he has struck coins.

Very truly yours,

Curator

Dear Mr. Wood:-

I hereby appoint you a member of a Committee of Three to prepare the design for a seal of the American Oriental Society. The Committee consists of yourself, Mr. Edward T. Newell, and Mr. John Reilly Jr. The Society will greatly appreciate your work in this regard, as will also

(as Chairman)

Yours very sincerely,

A. V. Williams Jackson

NEW YORK

My dear Mr. Wood: -

Professor Jackson begs to thank you most heartily for having sent him the rubbing of the Babur coins, and ^{also} of the mints - He thinks it most kind of you to have taken this trouble and wishes to express his deep appreciation.

Professor Jackson has read a reference to the Ross article.

Sincerely
Fate Jackson.

July 31st, 1929.

Prof. A. V. Williams Jackson,

New York City.

Dear Mr. Jackson:

I am herewith sending you two sketches for the seal of the American Oriental Society. These I have looked up, and shown to Mr. Newell for his approval. Mr. Reilly has been away for some time.

668 One seal you will note is composed simply of symbols. These three symbols I thought were the widest spread, and might be considered the most important for a host of symbols. The letters I have simply indicated, as I am no letterer. In the space on each side of the date of origin, two other small symbols might be used.

b The other suggestion I have simply roughly sketched, I thought can be worked out -- to use a section of the globe to include all of Asia, Eastern Europe, and part of Northern and Eastern Africa.

Very truly yours
